'The Generosity Factor'

Zacchaeus promised to give half his possessions to the poor and pay back those he had cheated by four times the amount. By his practical actions, he showed that he had changed and looked out for others rather than himself.

Being a generous friend! Rank the following generous acts of friendship (1-10) in the order you consider them to represent generosity:

Pays your mobile phone contract
Treats you to a posh meal
Gives you a car
Lets you use their holiday home
Replaces your washing machine
Bakes you a birthday cake
Takes a bullet meant for you
Pays for your child's school trip
Helps decorate your house
Gives you money towards a deposit

Now make it personal.

The one thing Zacchaeus could do was give his money away. Take another look at the list; are there any actions that you could possibly do for a friend or maybe suggest some alternatives?
