Take 'The Generosity Test'

It's easy to judge others when it comes to giving, but how does our own generosity stack up? Where does our motivation for generosity come from? Are we motivated solely by emotion, or is there a deeper influence?

Ask yourself whether you would be more or less likely to give in the following scenarios:

	Likely	Neutral	Unlikely
Seeing an emotive charity appeal on TV
Opening up the monthly credit card bill
It's your birthday!
Receiving notice of redundancy
Feeling tired/grumpy or ill
Feeling in control of your finances
Meeting a 'chugger' in the street or on your doorstep
Renegotiating your mobile phone contract
Forming a household budget
